It is mighty hard to keep Harry Sommers out of any kind of a good roads meeting. He is at Chattanooga log-rolling for the Nashville route for the Dixie Highway.

The seven bills providing a system of workmen's compensation were passed by the Pennsylvania legislature. As they were urged by Gov. Brumbaugh there is no doubt that he will sign the bills.

Anton Kuepferle, a German, claiming to be an American citizen, committed suicide in a London jail Thursday. He was being tried as a spy and left a letter saying he was a soldier and could not bear to mount the scaffold as a spy.

Three Sundays a week are observed in Constantinople—Friday by the Turks, Saturday by the Jews, and Sunday by the Christians. And three distinct calendars are used. This year the Mohammedan is dating his letters 1333, the Jew, 5675, and the Christian, of course, 1915.

Premier Joao Chagas, head of the successful revolutionists in Portugal, was shot by Senator Freitas Monday and died from his wounds Tuesday. Having accomplished their purposes, the revolutionists are said to be willing to let President Arriaga hold on until Oct. 5, when his time is out, as he made no resistance.

The German Emperor and his staff had a narrow escape Sunday while watching operations in a village near the river San, in Galicia. A Budapest dispatch says a heavy shell burst 500 yards away and destroyed the emperor's and several other machines, and killed his chauffeur. The emperor had left the car about fifteen minutes before. The emperor and his staff left hastily as other shells fell.

Reuter's Petrograd correspondent sends the following official note issued in the Russian capital Sunday: "Prince Kurakine, the special Red Cross envoy at the front, telegraphs that after the German artillery had bombarded the station where our wounded were lying, German cavalry finished off the wounded with their carbine butts, and, after spraying petrol and benzine about, set fire to the station, which was burned down with the men inside."

BETHEL'S CLOSING

Commencement Exercises Inaugurated By Concert Tonight.

TEN WILL GET DIPLOMAS.

Great Day Planned For Tuesday, With Basket Dinner on Campus.

Great preparations are being made for Commencement at Bethel, and the exercises this year promise to be of a very interesting nature. There will be a musical on Saturday night. This will be followed by the Baccalaureate sermon on Sunday at the First Baptist church. Monday morning the class day exercises will be held. Monday afternoon from four to six the work in the art department will be on exhibit, and Monday night the Grand Concert will take place. This will prove of exceptional interest to the lovers of good music. On Tuesday morning at ten o'clock, the alumnae association will meet, and at eleven o'clock the graduating exercises will take place at the First Baptist church. Dinner will be served on the College Campus, and in the afternoon, there will be interesting May Day Exercises by the young ladies of the College. It is expected that large numbers of the friends and former students of the College from over this and surrounding counties will be present on Tuesday. All who come are urged to bring well-filled baskets, so that there may be a bountiful dinner. A pleasant time is in store for all who come. Make your plans at once to spend next Tuesday with Bethel College. The program by days is here given:

On tomorrow night the Rev. J. N. Jessup will preach the Baccalaureate sermon for the Earlington High School.

Charles Zueblin, one of the Chautauqua Headliners who will be here, has been giving lectures in the cities, large and small, from one coast to the other, covering a period of twenty years. The Dinchester Progressive says: "Those lectures have been the means of bringing together the various organizations of a city—civic, commercial, fraternal, industrial, social, literary—in a common interest and a co-operation which has resulted in the formation of a larger permanent organization, combining all these interests for the purpose of improving and beautifying the city. The cities themselves give credit to these civic lectures for every definite and important work accomplished, such as:

GRAND RAPIDS—Pure water and charter revision. (The former especially had been bitterly fought by the saloon interests, until the week's civic campaigning aroused the people.)

MILWAUKEE—Credits Mr. Zueblin's civic lectures with the first suggestions for such betterment movements as has become effective there, such as play-grounds, social centers, vacations schools, manual training, municipal lectures.

FORT WAYNE—A week of civic lectures resulted in a permanent organization for civic improvement, the first work of which was to secure an eminent landscape architect to draw up a city plan.

ALBANY—Formation of a committee to work for a city plan.

GRAND RAPIDS—Second civic week—Resulted in donation of property by Gas Co. for playgrounds and donation of building for art gallery by private citizens.

RIDGEWOOD, N. J.—City plan.

LOUISVILLE—Organization to secure a city plan.

Charter revision in such cities as Jersey City, St. Paul, Portland, Ore., Salem, Mass.

WHOLESALE ARRESTS IN CHAPMAN CASE

Developments In The Warren County Murder Mystery of Two Months Ago.

Lorene Rigdon, Marshall Whitaker, James Bewley and George Bewley, all white, were arrested at Bowling Green Thursday charged with the murder of Lum Chapman. Warrants were also sworn out against Harry Wiseman and Etta Foster, mother of the Rigdon woman, charging them with false swearing, and one against Schuyler Rigdon, husband of the Rigdon woman, for maintaining a nuisance.

The Rigdon woman and Whitaker have been in jail for several weeks charged with false swearing.

One of the parties under arrest, it is claimed, has confessed to writing the threatening letters which have been received by Denhardt and also by Capt. Hamblin, and the same party claims the above persons under arrest for murder are the ones who killed Chapman on Saturday night, April 3, and whose body was found by Cal Rector and Presley Duncan, fishermen, on Tuesday morning, April 13.

He claims that Chapman was enticed across the river, where he was struck in the head and his body was thrown into the river.

The examining trials against the four persons charged with murder are set for Saturday. They were all lodged in jail.—Bowling Green News.

Fine Rain in Henderson.

Henderson county and all this section of the state was visited by a heavy downpour of rain late Wednesday night and Thursday morning. The rain began falling shortly after 11 o'clock and continued until nearly noon Thursday. The rain was general not only for this county but for all points heard from in adjoining counties.—Journal.

Feasted on Berries.

Mr. W. R. Brumfield, entertained the Adults Bible Classes of the Christian church with a strawberry supper at his suburban home Thursday night. About 200 attended and all were lavish in their praise of the host's boundless hospitality.

RECORD BREAKER

Close On To 900,000 Pounds Sold on Loose Floor This Week.

AVERAGE PRICE OF $6.79.

Largest Sales of Any Week During The Present Season.

The tobacco sales this week established a new record on the loose floors. The total of nearly 900,000 pounds was the biggest week's sale yet held. The average price was $6.79, 42 cents above the season's average.

About 70 hogsheads of tobacco were also sold and the factories received heavy deliveries on contracts. The total was about 125,000 pounds above last week's loose sales, turning loose another $100,000 at a time when it is badly needed in the channels of trade.

INTERMENT OF JACK BLUMENSTEIN

Who Died Thursday Morning Was Yesterday, In Riverside Cemetery.

Andrew Jackson Blumensteil died at the Jennie Stuart Memorial Hospital at 8:30 o'clock Thursday morning. About two weeks ago he underwent an operation for ulcerated intestines, and afterward his condition showed improvement and hopes were entertained for his recovery, but pneumonia developed and his death followed, as above stated. Mr. Blumensteil was 49 years old and was a son of the late Henry Blumensteil. He was born at Covington, Ky., and when three years old, was brought here with his parents, where he had since resided. He was a bricklayer by trade and had been engaged in contract work for years. The deceased was a member of the Catholic church. He was unmarried and made his home with his four surviving sisters, Misses Ida, Alice, Ella and Emma Blumensteil.

Mr. Blumensteil was very quiet and unassuming in his manner and had a wide circle of friends.

Funeral services were held yesterday morning at 9 o'clock at the Catholic church by Rev. J. P. Welsh, and the interment took place in Riverside Cemetery.

Attending League Conference

The following attended the Epworth League Conference at Pembroke yesterday and to-day: Misses Ollie Lawson, Ruth Haydon, Helen Carroll; Mrs. S. W. Tinsley and Mrs. Lewis Powell. Messrs. H. K. Jarrott, Lowe J. Johnson, John L. Lawson, Fred Harned, Rev. Lewis Powell and Rev. Virgin Elgin.

Colored School Out.

The colored city schools closed this week with exercises at the school building on Thursday. There was an exhibit of the work of the pupils and many white people attended.

Baccalaureate at Pembroke.

Rev. J. F. Claycomb, of Franklin, will preach the Baccalaureate sermon for Pembroke High School tomorrow evening.

ITALY STILL HESITATES

To "Cross The Rubicon" and Carry The War Into Austria.

WAR REGARDED AS CERTAIN.

Austrians and German Tighten the Circle Drawn Around Przemysl.

London, May 21.—Any lingering hope that Italy would maintain her neutrality was abandoned tonight when the Italian chamber conferred on the government extraordinary powers in the event of war's outbreak.

This is considered a vote for war, for which the government has made all preparations and the prospects of which have aroused the greatest enthusiasm Italy.

The German and Austrian ministers were still in Rome tonight, but according to Berlin dispatches their one care now is to arrange for the safety of their nationals remaining in Italy.

A formal declaration of war, or perhaps action without a formal declaration, is expected momentarily. At any rate, all preparations for naval and military action have been made on both sides and it is possible that while the Italian premier, Signor Salandra, was explaining to the cabinet and the world the policy of his government, the troops on the frontier and the navies in the Adriatic had anticipated diplomatic action.

Italy naturally will have to look first to her frontier, but it is expected that her entrance into war will compel Austria and perhaps Germany also to withdraw some troops from the Russian frontier, where they are hammering at the Russian lines. This hammering, according to Austrian and German reports, is driving the Russians back from the river San, in the rear of Jaroslau, and tightening the circle around Przemysl.

At other parts of the front the Russian appear to be withstanding the attacks in southern Poland, themselves taking the offensive. This, however, would be useless to them unless they can prevent the Austrians and Germans from making a further advance in Galicia.

In the west bad weather had brought operations to almost a standstill, and this has enabled the French and British to consolidate ground gained. While these were not excessive, military experts are satisfied with them, having been proved to their minds that if men and ammunition respectively are concentrated in sufficient numbers and quantity the Germans can be driven back.

The public is still dependent on unofficial reports of the progress of the armies on the Gallipoli peninsula. These reports are encouraging from the standpoint of the allies, as they state that the forts at Kilid Bahr have been destroyed, that Maidos has been occupied, and that the bombardment of Nagara is in progress night and day.

Boyd-Johnson.

Richard Boyd and Miss Elizabeth Ethel Johnson were united in marriage Wednesday night by Judge Walter Knight, at his residence on South Main. The wedding was a very quiet affair, only the closest friends of the contracting parties having been apprised approaching nuptial event.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. J. T. Johnson, who resides on North Main, and is quite popular. The groom is a prosperous young contractor, with a host of friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyd will reside on Jesup avenue, where they have already gone to housekeeping.

Richard Dobson, 70 years old, of Marion, Ind., was once special court musician to a zar of Russia.

would announce on a prohibition platform but he dogged the statewide issue by declaring for national prohibition, "and if this," he said
"is found to be ineffective, then I am for trying out the state-wide plan." Another plank in his platform would vest with the governor power to remove mayors or sheriffs who fail to do their own duty.

BREAD DRESSING FOR STEAK

Many Prefer Meat Prepared in a Casserole to That Broiled in the Regular Way.If you wish to stuff a flank steak use bread dressing; use it with vegetables and a small quantity of liquid in a casserole. If you do not own one (and you should in these times of high prices) use any tightly covered dish. Be sure it is tight so the steam cannot escape.Bread Stuffing.—Two cupfuls soft bread crumbs, one-half cupful butter melted in one-third cupful hot water or milk, one-quarter teaspoonful powdered sweet herbs or spiced poultry seasoning, one beaten egg. Mix the ingredients together thoroughly. The bread should be 24 hours old and taken from the center of the loaf.
The seasoning is a matter of individual taste, so you can use the above quantities or suit your taste. The egg may be omitted if the flank is to be eaten hot, but will slice better when cold if egg is used. Cracker crumbs give a drier stuffing.Spread your flank steak with above and roll tightly. Fry out some suet and then brown the flank so as to hold the juices. Put in casserole, add little water and when half done season with salt and pepper, chopped onions and plenty of fine minced vegetables or rice, whichever you may prefer. The flank is quite juicy, so you will need but little water. It lacks flavor, so the high spices and vegetables make up what the flank lacks. It is much better this way than broiled as regular steak.

Hot-Water Chocolate Cake.

Two tablespoonfuls butter, one cupful sugar, yolk of one egg, two tablespoonfuls cocoa dissolved in one-half cupful boiling water, one teaspoonful of soda dissolved in one-half cupful boiling water, one teaspoonful of baking powder, sifted with one and one-half cupfuls of flour and one teaspoonful of vanilla. Mix in order given and bake in square tin about thirty minutes. Frost with white of egg beaten stiff. Boil one cupful sugar in little water till it hairs, then turn on egg and beat till stiff.

When Steak Is Tough.

To make a tough steak tender, put three tablespoonfuls of salad oil and one tablespoonful vinegar on a large flat dish.Lay the steak on the mixture and let it rest in this way for half an hour, then turn it over, and let it rest another half hour in the same quantity of vinegar and oil.The toughest steak will yield to this treatment and be nice and tender when served.

Beefsteak Pie (English).

Cut two pounds of round steak into strips, roll in flour and arrange in a deep dish with three lamb's kidneys,
which have been cut up and parboiled,
one dozen oysters, one onion minced fine, parsley, dried thyme. Dot generously with bits of butter, and add two cupfuls hot water. Cover with a biscuit crust arranged in strips. Brush with yolk of egg and bake two hours in a moderate oven.

Wine Jelly.

Take a half box of gelatin, soaked in a half pint of cold water for 15 minutes, and add three gills of boiling water and two-thirds of a cupful of sugar. Let this come to the boiling point, then add seven tablespoonfuls of best sherry wine and two teaspoon-fuls of French brandy. Boil up once strain and cool.

Cape May Omelet.

Soak one-half cupful stale bread crumbs in milk. Beat one egg well, add salt, pepper and a tablespoonful melted butter. Add one-half cupful canned corn and mix with the breadcrumbs. The mixture should be quite thick. Bake in a buttered dish just long enough to set the egg and brown
the top.

Rendering Leaf Lard.

A quick way to render leaf lard is to cut it in strips about the size that will fit into a meat grinder, using the largest opening, which will allow it to come through very fine. Put in kettle and place in a hot oven until the lard is extracted, strain through cheesecloth and put in crocks.

CARTRIDGE CASES OF PAPER

German Chemist's Invention Is of Immense Importance in View of the Conflict in Europe.A new application of extreme interest at the present time of the metal sprinkling process invented by Mr. M. U. Schoop, an engineer of Zurich, consists in the manufacture of cartridge cases from metalized paper in lieu of brass or copper.
The advantages of such a process are apparent even to the layman. A certain independence of the large quantities of brass and copper hitherto required is obtained. In addition to this, there is a saving in weight of three to four grams in each cartridge, as a result of which the soldier can carry a considerably larger quantity of ammunition than heretofore. In the Schoop process the liquid metal is crushed by means of compressed air and is then inflated by any known method into extremely fine particles. Metalized cardboard or paper can in this way be provided with any durable and well-adhering metal coverings of any desired thickness. For the purpose above mentioned very thin coatings of a few thousandth parts of a millimeter in thickness are of course sufficient.—

Read in this timely, authoritative, complete, AND THE ONLY CONDENSED classic world history—of which over 2,000,000 copies have been sold in France alone—just what has taken place in the inner councils of Europe during the past one hundred years. Read in these entrancing pages how Russia has for years craftily been trying to escape from her darkness—to get a year-round open port, with its economic freedom.Read how Germany and Austria, fearful of the monster's latent strength, have been trying to checkmate her and how they have pinned all in this last, supreme stake.

The Lesson of the Past

THIS master of the pen shows you the glory that was Greece's and the grandeur that was Rome's. He guides you through the Middle Ages, the picturesque old days of feudalism and the crusades through the Renaissance up to contemporary history, which Prof.
Grosvenor completes in brilliant manner. In the story of the past lie the secrets of today. And you will understand them better when you get the Review of Reviews for a year—for the Review of Reviews will give you a sane interpretation of the events that are taking place with such rapidity. It is not enough to read the daily news reports. Your ability to comprehend conditions, and to discuss them rationally depends on a true interpretation of the meaning and the "reason why" of events. In your mind you must bring order out of chaos—and the Review of Reviews will do it for you.Get the

FOR BETTER ROADS

ROAD BUILDING IN OKLAHOMA

State Superintendent of Public Instruction Takes Steps to Teach Boys Art of Construction.

"Not to be outdone by Missouri and Kansas, the state of Oklahoma is to take up educational work in road-building," said R. E. House of Muskogee, while in Washington recently. "Governor Major of Missouri and Governor Hodges of Kansas stirred the imagination and ambition of the boys of Missouri and Kansas by getting out on the roads and handling pick and shovel in the making of roads. Oklahoma is going to begin at the beginning and teach the boy in the school how to build good roads. The state highway commissioner is co-operating with the state superintendent of public instruction, and the latter has taken up the matter with the county superintendents.

"When the federal government had spent thousands of dollars to encourage scientific farming and when so few farmers adopted the methods advanced, the officials changed their plans and went after the boys in the schools. They sought to teach the new methods to the older persons through the boys in the schools, and they succeeded.

"If the farmers were made to realize the advantages of better farming methods through their boys in the schools, it seems to me there is little doubt they can be brought to appreciate the great advantages that will result from improved roads. For that matter, however, the farmer ordinarily understands that good roads are advantageous. Education in the benefits of good roads perhaps would be more profitably undertaken in the public schools of the big cities. It is the state legislatures and the federal government that have failed to appreciate the profits that will accrue from good roads. It is far better to spend money on good roads than on great armies and navies, and it would seem that the highways had better be made passable before the government undertakes to make the rivers navigable, for there is more traffic over the country roads than on the rivers."

An Improved Southern Road.

KEEP IDLE HORSES HEALTHY

Best Thing for Azoturia is Prevention.
Says Doctor Reynolds—Water and Exercise Essential.

The symptoms of azoturia are easily recognizable. A horse comes out of the stable apparently in the best of condition. He is driven but a short distance before he shows signs of lameness or stiffness in his hind legs. He staggers and may fall before he can be unhitched. He perspires freely. The muscles over the loins and hips become rigid and frequently tender, often trembling and twitching.

According to Dr. M. H. Reynolds the best thing for azoturia is prevention. When a horse must remain idle for a few days the grain ration should be reduced. If a horse is very fat he should be fed no grain. Every horse should be given plenty of water and turned out for exercise daily. If the grain ration has not been reduced during a period of idleness in any case, the horse should have a cathartic before being put into harness again. A quart of raw linseed oil 36 hours before hitching is a safe dose. Work should be light for the first day after idleness, as violent exercise is likely to invite an attack.

Odor of Stale Eggs.

You cannot mistake the odor of stale or bad eggs. To a certain extent eggs like butter are susceptible to bad odors. Some believe that the egg absorbs odors after being laid by coming in contact with foreign substances. For instance a kerosene taste in eggs would not necessarily indicate that a hen had been drinking kerosene. Eggs that are exposed to odors of kerosene in some close back room or whose shells have become saturated with the oil will have a kero-

H. C. WALLIS

Prominent Merchant of Rinaldo Died Suddenly.

Mr. H. C. Wallis, one of the most prominent citizens of the Rinaldo neighborhood, died very suddenly Monday night about 12 o'clock from a stroke of paralysis at his home just over the line in Lyon county.

Notwithstanding the fact that Mr. Wallis was seventy-nine years of age, he seemed to be enjoying his usual good health, and Monday afternoon walked out through his farm looking at his crops and also made an inspection of his garden just before night. He ate a good supper and retired at his usual time, but some time after retiring his good wife noticed an unusual sound in his breathing and soon discovered there was something the matter with him. Some of the neighbors were called in by telephone, but the end came about midnight. This was the second stroke he had sustained, the other one being about three years ago.

Mr. Wallis was born only about two miles south of Cadiz, and had spent all his life in Trigg and just over the line in Lyon county. He had been married twice, his second wife, who survives him, being Miss Elsie Shannon, of this county. Besides this wife Mr. Wallis is survived by three children:

He had been a member of the Baptist church for sixty years and had always been very active in church work. His membership was with Hurricane church.

For thirty years Mr. Wallis had operated the store at Rinaldo, which business he was still looking after at the time of his death.

Mr. Wallis was a splendid citizen and had a host of friends not only in his immediate neighborhood, but throughout this and Lyon counties, who will learn of his sudden and untimely death with much sorrow. His remains were laid to rest in the family burying ground on his own farm in the presence of quite a large crowd of sorrowing friends and relatives. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. J. D. Woodson, of Eddyville.

Proxy Marriage.

Paris, May 21.—The first marriage by proxy in this city since the war began took place Wednesday in the Latin quarter. Alfred Lorin, the bridegroom, a Paris attorney, now a soldier at the front, was represented by his friend, Firmin Souq. The ceremony was performed in strict privacy.

PSYCHIC WONDER.

Unusual Powers of Sixteen Year Old Boy.

The wonderful powers of Edgar Myers, a sixteen-year-old Kentuckian, have been mystifying the people of Georgetown during the past week and the lad has created an endless amount of discussion wherever there has been a gathering of men or women. While in a state of catalepsy, the boy writes the answers of questions, which have been written at home or in the theatre and have been tightly sealed. Probably the most remarkable feat accomplished here were the locating of four dozen forks belonging to the Elks Club and the telling to Mrs. John L. Giles the location of a brother, Dr. L. P. Rowlett, who disappeared nearly twenty years ago. In the envelope Mrs. Giles merely wrote on a slip of paper, "Where is my brother, who disappeared?" The boy then gave his name in full and said that he was a large cattle raiser at Medicine Hat, Canada.

The location of the forks was unusual. When the Odd Fellows gave an entertainment some time ago, the silver was borrowed by them. After being used the committee in charge handed them over to Dr. R. D. Coffman, who locked them secure away in his office and gave them no further thought. When a new house committee was elected at the Elks Home it was found that the forks were missing. It was then that the question was put to the boy, who immediately told that they had not been stolen, but that a dentist in the neighborhood of the Alamo had put them away for safekeeping.

In regard to a diamond scarf pin belonging to John R. Downing, the youth gave the name of a man in Jeffersonville, Ind., who picked it up in a barber shop, where Mr. Downing had left it. He told the latter that if he would write to the man, who travels for a perfume house out of Louisville, he would gladly return it.—Georgetown Times.

Jews In War Zone.

The total number of Jews living in the war zone and suffering from the consequences of the war in one way or another, given by the American Jewish Relief Committee for Sufferers from the War in their monthly bulletin, received in Cincinnati Saturday follows: Russia, 6,287,000; Austria-Hungary, 2,500,000; the Orient, 960,000; Germany, 608,000; England, 240,000; France, 110,000; Belgium, 20,000. To date the Treasurer of the National Committee, Felix W. Warburg, of New York, has received $652,983.56.

Argentina has planted 10,381,500 acres to corn and expects a crop of over 8,500,000 metric tons.

JARED R. HAWKINS

Editor Hopkinsville Kentuckian:

Will you permit me to add a word in regard to Jared Hawkins, of whom you published a short sketch a few days ago?

I attended his funeral, at the church, Tuesday afternoon, where a large concourse of his race assembled to honor his memory. The abundance of flowers heaped upon his bier, and the resolutions read by the representatives of the various organizations of which he was a member, bore testimony to the esteem in which he was held.

As you say, he was truly a "leader of his race," but a modest, unobtrusive one. He never sought prominence, but was honored because of his worth, and quietly and faithfully performed the duties laid upon him.

Jared was a son of Marshall Hawkins, one of the pioneer colored men of the County, who was contemporary with Nelson Cross, Oscar Latham, Phil Bell, Sr., Rich Dickinson, Abe Morris, Ben Glass, Wash Brent, George Price, Ben Wood, and others that I do not now recall, only one of whom, (Ben Wood), survives, and he is very old.

Marshall was the "Village Blacksmith" in his time, and his wife, Sicily, was a servant of my grandmother Long Marshall belonged to a family named Hawkins who lived in Todd County, but was permitted to hire his time and come to Hopkinsville to be with his family, and was liberated, along with other slaves, by Mr. Hawkins, some while before the "Emancipation Proclamation."

My father assisted him in establishing his business and always patronized and befriended him. He was an honest, sober and industrious man and a christian, and was church sexton for a number of years.

His skin was black but that had nothing to do with the man inside of it; and there was not a more highly respected citizen than Marshall Hawkins. Jared was his youngest son and partook of his father's characteristics, having the advantage of being brought up in the families of my father and grandmother.

He was born in 1847 instead of "1852," which made him, as you say, 68 years old. He and I were boys together and I am glad to own him as a friend. "He was faithful unto death" and God will give him "The Crown of Life."

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

HUBBARD STILL ALIVE

Medium Declares Elbert Hubbard Still Alive in Fisherman's Home.

Buffalo, N. Y., May 20.—Although officials of the Roycroft enterprises at East Aurora have given up all hope that either Elbert Hubbard or his wife is alive, many folks in the village pin their faith to a story said to have been told in a spiritualist seance here. It is said that the medium declared that Mrs. Hubbard had perished, but that Mr. Hubbard was taken ashore among the wounded survivors and is now being cared for in a fisherman's cottage. The medium claims that he is seriously ill and has been unable to tell his name.

So much hope, indeed, has been placed in this prediction that Jno. D. Larkin, millionaire soap manufacturer and brother-in-law to Fra Elbertus, has sailed for Europe, ready to spend a fortune in the renewed search.

Announcement was made this morning that Elbert Hubbard, Jr., had assumed the active management of the industries connected with the Roycroft business here. Mr. Hubbard is still in early thirties, but for many years he has taken an active part in the direction of the work here. He had been treasurer of the Roycroft Society, superintendent of the furniture shop and cashier of the Hubbard Bank. In addition he has been active in the preparation and printing of the Philistine, the Fra and the other Hubbard publications.

Fra Elbertus had been away from East Aurora a great deal during the last few years and much of the writing has been done by the son. Physically he bears a striking resemblance to his father, and his literary style is so similar that even employees of the shops found it hard to distinguish between the writing of the son and the father.

VINSON CASE IS SETTLED

Both Branches of The Litigation Settled At Cadiz.

The trial of Thos. Vinson, for shooting B. F. Mitchell, at Gracey last winter, was called at Cadiz yesterday, but before the trial left Mr. S. Y. Trimble, one of the attorneys, phoned his partner to stop the witnesses. Mr. Trimble returned home yesterday and reported that both branches of the case had been settled, the indictment and the $15,000 damage suit against Vinson. No details were given out, beyond the fact that the matter had been adjusted all round. Mr. Mitchell recovered from his wound and is now living near this city. Mr. Vinson is a wealthy and prominent man and great interest was felt in the case.

The report is that Mr. Vinson was fined $500 and compromised the suit at $4,250.

Sycamore Landmark Lowered.

On account of decay, the old sycamore tree that stood just in the edge of the concrete pavement on the property line between O. T. Hale & Son's store and the E. S. Dugan's furniture store was cut down the first of the week. It stood there before the town of Murray was founded and was more than a century old.

Incidents in connection with the stately old tree recall the stirring times of '61-'65. After the organization of a local company of Confederate soldiers in '62 the tallest limb on the old tree was trimmed up and the flag of the Confederacy hoisted to the breezes. It floated proudly for only a very brief time. A squad of federal troops was sent from Paducah to lower the stars and bars and in its place was raised the flag of the union, the stars and stripes. Not content with this achievement but determined that the then little village should feel the power of the union, the row of business houses on the east side of the square were fired and the next night the north row was reduced to ashes.—Murray Ledger.

SEE WHAT The Union Central WILL DO FOR YOU

As Compared WITH OTHER COMPANIES

No sensible man would undertake to buy property without first investigating the security and cost. This precaution should be exercised especially in buying Life Insurance, as this estate will be settled with widows and orphans, probably thirty or forty years hence. The very best security is not too good to surround the estate of your loved ones. Below we are making some comparisons in rates for three of the popular forms of Life Insurance with some of the leading companies of the country. All of which we regard as safe so far as security is concerned but look at the wide difference in premium rates. The Ohio, Massachusetts and New York, and other Insurance Departments show beyond controversy that Policy holders in the Union Central pay less for their insurance than policy holders in other companies. As to the security that the Union Central offers, we will respectfully call your attention to our 1915 Report. (See recently published financial statement of Company.) The company issues all modern forms of Life Insurance. Before purchasing your insurance, you should certainly let us show you what we have, and if we cannot show you where we can save you money, we will advise you to buy your insurance elsewhere.

Germans Loyal.

The German Catholic Union of Baltimore, with a membership of more than 8,000 persons of German birth or parentage, has pledged its loyalty to President Wilson "in the handling of the crisis with Germany."

At a meeting of the union the President, Paul J. Prodoehl, was instructed by a unanimous vote to send the following message to President Wilson:

"While proud of our German ancestry, we know only one flag, the flag of our country, and we tender to you, the standard bearer, our undivided loyalty."

"We have every confidence in your cool judgment, honest purpose and brave manhood, and are convinced that you would rather be right than president. That God may guide you is the prayer of the German Catholic Union of Baltimore and vicinity."

Prodoehl, who forwarded the message to the president, declared that it voiced the sentiment of practically the entire body of German-Americans in Baltimore, and meant that they would stand by Wilson and the flag of their adopted country to the limit.

Woman Dies at Seance.

Mt. Vernon, N. Y.—The question, "Is my brother dead or alive?" was written on a slip of paper and passed up to a "mind reader" at a special matinee for women at Proctor's Theater here by Mrs. Edward G. Collins, 333 Main street, New Rochelle. The brother about whom Mrs. Collins inquired disappeared seven years ago, and was well remembered by Mrs. Emma Middleton, of 357 Huguenot avenue, New Rochelle, who, with Mrs. Christine Chandler, of the same address, accompanied Mrs. Collins. As the performer drew forth slips with questions from the audience, which were answered, Mrs. Collins and Mrs. Middleton waited expectantly until the "mind reader" drew out the slip, read it, and answered: "Mrs. Collins, your brother is alive, in good health and is in the navy." Mrs. Middleton grasped Mrs. Collins' arm excitedly. She told her two companions she felt very ill and they assisted her to a private room at the theater, where she died within a few minutes.

Sick Women Attention

Is it possible there is a woman in this country who continues to suffer without giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial after all the evidence that is continually being published, which proves beyond contradiction that this grand old medicine has relieved more suffering among women than any other one medicine in the world?

We have published in the newspapers of the United States more genuine testimonial letters than have ever been published in the interest of any other medicine for women—and every year we publish many new testimonials, all genuine and true. Here are three never before published:

From Mrs. S. T. Richmond, Providence, R. I.

PROVIDENCE, R. I.—“For the benefit of women who suffer as I have done I wish to state what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I did some heavy lifting and the doctor said it caused a displacement. I have always been weak and I overworked after my baby was born and inflammation set in, then nervous prostration, from which I did not recover until I had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. The Compound is my best friend and when I hear of a woman with troubles like mine I try to induce her to take your medicine.”—Mrs. S. T. RICHMOND, 84 Progress Avenue, Providence, R. I.

From Mrs. Maria Irwin, Peru, N.Y.

PERU, N.Y.—“Before I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was very irregular and had much pain. I had lost three children, and felt worn out all the time. This splendid medicine helped me as nothing else had done, and I am thankful every day that I took it.”—Mrs. MARIA IRWIN, R.F.D. 1, Peru, N.Y.

From Mrs. Jane D. Duncan, W. Quincy, Mass.

SOUTH QUINCY, MASS.—“The doctor said that I had organic trouble and he doctored me for a long time and I did not get any relief. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised and I tried it and found relief before I had finished the first bottle. I continued taking it all through middle life and am now a strong, healthy woman and earn my own living.”—Mrs. JANE D. DUNCAN, Forest Avenue, West Quincy, Mass.

Write to LYDIA E. PINKHAM MEDICINE CO. (CONFIDENTIAL) LYNN, MASS., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

SCHOOL PLAY BIG SUCCESS

Young People Display Unusual Histrionic Attainments.

“The Schoolmistress,” a laughable comedy, was successfully staged by the High School pupils Wednesday night at the Opera House, by Miss Virginia Williamson.

Miss Virginia Pursley as Mrs. Queckett, Thos. Underwood as Hon. Vere Queckett, an impecunious nobleman with a rich wife; Miss Janie Walker, as Peggie Hesterigge, the governess and Edward Dabney as Admiral Rankling scored hits. Miss Viva Locker as Mrs. Rankling, Misses Mary Campbell, Mary Rice and Gladys Taylor as College Girls all helped to make the play a success.

Lee Oldham, H. K. Jarrett, Manning Brown, Jas. Higgins, Earle Fowler and Sam Torian, Tandy Wadlington and Miss Elizabeth McPherson well sustained other characters. Miss Leonora Wall presided at the piano.

There was a big house and all were thoroughly pleased.

DEATH IN ARKANSAS

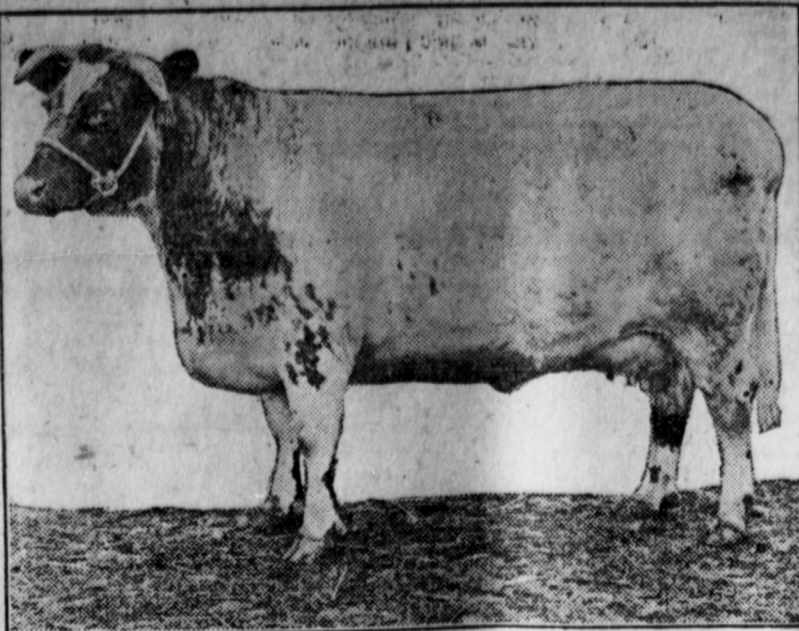

Of Captain Brashear, Whose Wife Was a Hopkinsville Lady.

Capt. T. P. Brashear, of Little Rock, Ark., whose wife was Miss Ann Gish, daughter of the late Dr. Jake Gish, of this city, died in Little Rock a few days ago, aged 77 years. Capt. Brashear was one of the oldest steamboat men of the south. He commanded boats on the Ohio, Mississippi and Arkansas rivers during the days of the heavy river traffic. More than a year ago Captain and Mrs. Brashear celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary.

The deceased lived in Indiana before moving to Little Rock more than forty years ago.

Sincerity. I should say sincerity, a deep, great, genuine sincerity, is the first characteristic of all men in any way heroic.—Carlyle.

EXTRA CARE AND FEED FOR YOUNG COWS

Prize-Winning English Shorthorn.

The making of a good dairy cow begins with the calf. Heifers designed for the dairy should have the very best of care from the day they are born until they begin to do service in the dairy. We too often forget that the young cow in her first year of milking has not reached her full growth and therefore needs extra feed and care to make up for the tremendous drain upon her system.

If dairy heifers are not bred until they are three years old, care should be taken that they do not lay on too much fat, as after that time they freshen up rapidly whenever heavily fed. The good dairy cow, however, seldom gets too fat.

Sometimes cows are condemned as being of no use in the dairy, when the only trouble is they are sour. Every cow should have a fair chance. That means that she should be well fed.

CONCRETE HENHOUSE

Correct Methods of Making Good Quality of Material.

Building Can Be Made Ratproof With Little Trouble and Slight Expense—Perfect Drainage Is Important Requisite.

With the rapid decrease of our timber supply and the resulting increase in the price of lumber there has come a necessary demand for a new building material. Nowhere has this demand been felt more keenly than on the American farm, where lumber has till now been practically the only building material. On account, however, of the farmer's nearness to the timber itself, he has been the last one to feel the full effect of the shortage.

In concrete a building material has been discovered that in many instances has proved to be far superior to lumber, brick or building stones on account of its durability, economy and safety from fire loss. Moreover, it can very often be used at the most convenient time by the farmer himself with a very little assistance.

Frequently cement users have made costly mistakes by not informing themselves properly before starting their work concerning the correct methods of making good concrete. For this purpose the following materials are necessary: (1) cement; (2) sand; (3) gravel or crushed stone, and (4) water.

Cement is, therefore, only one part of a concrete mixture. A far greater proportion of sand and gravel than cement is required. The quantity of cement to be used and the strength of the concrete depends entirely on the quality and size of the sand and gravel, and it is of the utmost importance that these be of the right kind. With an equal amount of cement a far stronger concrete may be made if the sand and gravel are of the proper size and correctly proportioned. It is sometimes thought that any kind of soil of a sandy nature, mixed with a small percentage of cement will make concrete, but this idea is incorrect.

In the selection of sand great care should be used, and attention should be given to its quality, for sand concrete should be made of a fine sand, reaching below the frost line and a line of three-inch tile placed in the bottom, connected with a proper outlet. The lower part of the trench is then filled with flat stones, placed so as to give chance for the free passage of water. Smaller stones or cinders are placed upon them, and up to within a few inches of the ground surface. Stand boards on edge so as to make a form for the concrete of proper width, say six or eight inches. Next prepare your concrete by mixing Portland or other good cement, one part, with three parts sand, and water enough to make a puttylike mass, with which the board form is to be evenly filled up. This makes a practically indestructible foundation.

RAISING BROILERS ON FARM

Early Chick Is Most Profitable—Large Demand for Fowls of Two to Three Pounds.

(By A. C. SMITH.) The early chick is the most profitable, yet there is profit in the late chick provided it is not too late.

There is an exceptionally large demand in some sections for light-weight broilers and broilers of from two to two and a half pounds. This furnishes a splendid opportunity for those who wish to rear and market chicks without being obliged to house them. Hatched in May or June, they should easily weigh two or two and one-half pounds before October 1. If especially well fed, they should reach that weight still earlier. This is the most favorable time to hatch and raise chickens, as the parent stock has been out of doors long enough to acquire splendid health and remarkable vigor. Eggs, if sensibly set, should hatch almost perfectly and the chicks should live and thrive.

The equipment required is very small—a good sized box or a barrel, covered with waterproof paper, set in a dry sheltered place, may be used both to set the hen in and to house the brood, though the barrel is rather unsuitable for the brood after the chicks are weaned, especially if there are many of them.

Both hen and chicks should be allowed free range after the chicks are a few days old, to pick up a large share of their living, but in addition it is a good plan to feed them at night, and to give them all they will eat, as they will grow faster and will either be marketable at an earlier age or weigh more, and consequently bring more, at a given time. Chickens of this weight, will not, it is true, bring a fortune, but it must be remembered that they cost very little to rear. The fact that the earlier they are marketed, the better the price, should not be lost sight of. For this reason, it pays to feed them a little where there is not an opportunity to pick up abundance of food.

FEEDING PUMPKINS TO STOCK

Worth Approximately Two-Thirds as Much as Ensilage for Cows or Sheep—Sows Like Them.

“Pumpkins are worth approximately two-thirds as much as ensilage for cows or sheep. Brood sows will make good use of them,” writes H. P. Miller in Ohio Farmer.

In the ration of fattening hogs they should occupy about the same place as grass. Perhaps $2 per ton would be a fair money value to place upon field pumpkins for feeding cattle, sheep or hogs.

It will be noted that they contain so much water that no animal should be confined to pumpkins alone.

Dust Setting Hens.

Dust your hens thoroughly with some good insect powder the day you set them, also on the tenth and nineteenth days; this will get rid of the mites, also grease the chick's head with oil of citronella, which can be had at any drug store.

Concrete Foundation.

tributes from one-third to one-half of the amount of the materials used in making concrete.

The largest part of concrete is the gravel or crushed stone. This should be clean; that is, free from loam, clay or vegetable matter. The water used for concrete should be clean and free from strong acids and alkalis.

In building a poultry house with a concrete foundation, a little extra trouble and slight expense will also make it absolutely rat-proof. Of course, perfect drainage is the first requisite. In a deep, gravelly soil, where we do not meet with a water-proof clay subsoil, digging a deep trench, or putting tile in the bottom is not necessary. Where the subsoil does not allow the free passage of water, however, the trench should

The probability is that Sunday will be an ideal day, and everybody should go to church. If you don't go to church where are you going? When that greatest of England's statesmen, William E. Gladstone, was asked why he attended the church services so regularly and persistently, replied that it was not alone because he was a sincere follower of Jesus Christ, and a desire to worship him as his Lord and Savior, but because he loved the English nation. In other words sentiment and principles of patriotism prompted him among other motives to stand by the church and the things for which the church stands, because those and the things that make government stable and a nation prosperous and happy. No man is a real friend to this community who pursues his selfish end and leaves the fear of God out of his life and refuses to respond to the highest claims of patriotism!

MISSION OF THE RURAL CHURCH

SHOULD BE UNIVERSITY OF RE-LIGIOUS LEARNING.

Duty of Christianity to Evangelize the World.

By Rev. Jno. A. Rice, D. D.
Pastor St. John M. E. Church, South,
St. Louis, Mo.

Some years ago, the question was asked: What is a college? The attempt to answer it shook the educational world in America from center to circumference. Another question is now beginning to be asked: What is a church? Without undertaking to give a definition of it, let me ask, in this initial paper, what the church is for? The New Testament reveals three distinct tasks to which it is committed.

First, that of evangelization. The church is divinely commissioned to reach for the lowest and the least man in the least land and offer him sonship to the Eternal God; offer him a divine power, which lifts him out of the bog and places him upon the highest levels of human life, where God and the soul are in fellowship.
This alone were an immense privilege.

Teaching the Art of Living.

The church is commissioned also to teach and train those who are rich with its evangelistic message.
The term, Religious Education, has come to mean a specific thing in our country, namely, the training of the people in the local church in those deep matters which pertain to the art of living. I am not now speaking of the work of education in schools, colleges and universities, but the work of education at our doors, in the congregation. Every agency in reach should be employed to the utmost in this important mission. Indeed, the local church could be made a sort of university for all the people, in which the simple, practical arts and virtues of everyday life should be taught and enforced. Only recently has this special phase of the church's work received anything like adequate attention. The New Testament word for it is Edification.

School of Religion Needed.

Of course, the Sunday School is the center for all this work, although the activities of the church should extend through the entire week and the Sunday School should cease to be so named. It should be called the School of Religion or the Church School or something else that indicates it to be an all-the-week activity. During this time various and sundry clubs, classes, musical organizations, culture courses,
as well as distinctly religious meetings,
should be held. Thickly settled neighborhoods, as we shall see, offer fine opportunities for the development of things spiritual.

The third task to which the church is committed is that of Christianizing the social order; that of infusing the spirit of Jesus into every nook and corner of our life. Nothing is foreign to the interest of the church.

Neighborly Love Essential.

If religion pervades and colors the whole life then ours is serious business, for it will let no corner of the world escape its influence. The sooner we learn that Christianity is not a thing to be practiced in a corner the better for the world. The question of the eighteenth century, touching Christianity, was, Can it be made to square with the human reason? Of the nineteenth, Can it be made to square with the results of scientific research? Of the twentieth, What can it do? We must learn to enforce not only love of God, whom we cannot see, but love to our neighbors, with whom we are living in constant contact. Neither without the other is Christianity whatever else
it may be. Everything that interests his neighbors must interest him, if he is a genuine follower of the Christ.

It is the mission of the church—the rural as well as the city—to evangelize the whole world, to train to the highest degree of efficiency those whom it evangelizes and to seek to make the spirit of Jesus the absolute rule in all human relations.

It is an admitted economic fact that there can be no permanent prosperity without a permanent agriculture.

THE NATION'S DINNER TABLE

When the dinner bell of this nation rings there have been slaughtered for the repast 12,000 hogs, 21,000 hogs, 4,000 sheep, 2,000 hundredweight of poultry and other meats, and there have been 700,000 bushels of cereals and 540,000,000 pounds of vegetables prepared for the feast. Multiply these quantities by one thousand, representing approximately the number of meals per annum, and we have the annual contents of the nation's larder.
But with all our immense quantity, superb quality and wide range of products, the American housewife, like the wife of King Nebuchadnezzar, longs for variety, and she goes marketing in foreign lands. She buys abroad $200,000,000 per annum of farm products that can and should be produced in the United States.

The Woman's Gift.
It is as natural for the normal woman to talk as for the bird to sing. It is the spontaneous expression and giving of herself. It is this naturalness which gives to her talkativeness its perennial charm as well as its incalculable value in the scheme of things.
The woman in the human group is much like the monarch in Pierre Mille's delightful tales of that name.
"Why do people call me the monarch?
Why am I loved? Why always happy?
Because," he explains, "I always have time to talk. Without me the people around here would be bored to death.
I go and come, laugh and sing. It costs nothing but a glass of wine, and a bit of supper. What do I give? I give myself." The woman gives herself—

SAYS INDIA'S NEED IS CREDIT

Financier Practically Makes Claim That Britain Has Neglected Her Great Dependency.

"Credit is India's missing link, and until the link is fitted India will remain low in the scale of civilization," said Sir Daniel Mackinnon Hamilton, in a paper read at a meeting of the East India association at Caxton hall, Westminster, recently. He referred to the money lent last year to the colonies and dependencies and foreign countries by the London money market. It showed, he said, that India was not getting her fair share of capital. For seven months, January to July, 1914, Canada borrowed $175,000,000 from the outside world, most of it from London. India, he supposed, borrowed about $15,000,000 in the same time. The old Scottish banking system applied by the state was what India wanted. It set men to work for themselves and the state, without waiting for gold and silver. It developed production as well as trade. It embodied the co-operative principle. Men borrowed on the security of their friends. What he would suggest was that the government should push on as fast as possible with the development of the co-operative village societies, and trust the societies which were all under the supervision of the government. England had a bank agency for every 5,000 of her people. India has no bank for 250,000,000 of hers.

Good Work of Humble Worm.

Worms are great promoters of vegetation by boring, perforating and loosening the soil and rendering it pervious to rains and the fibers of plants by drawing straws and stalks of leaves and twigs into it, and, most of all, by throwing up such infinite numbers of lumps of earth called wormcasts, which form a fine manure for grain and grass. The earth without worms would soon become cold, hard, void of fermentation and consequently sterile. This has occurred in many cases where the worms have been either accidentally or intentionally destroyed, and the fertility of the soil thus lost has only been restored when the worms had again collected and resumed their fertilizing work.

DANGER FROM COMMON COLD

Harvard Professor Asserts It is Highly Infectious, and Urges Need of Precautions.

A Harvard professor has arraigned the common cold in severe terms; it is infectious and people are asked to take precautions against its spread. While persons suffering from ordinary colds cannot, of course, be isolated, they should take measures which will not make them common carriers of the disease. What the patient should do, in his own interest, as well as that of others, is to stay at home for a day or two—preferably in bed. Better than all medicines is the "rest cure." It prevents the disease from dragging along and turning into malignant forms. At the season of the year when colds are so easily contracted the following concise advice is given by the Harvard authority to those who would remain well: "Keep out of the way of sneezers and coughers; don't handle them or let them handle you, for a shake of the hand, from one who recently coughed or sneezed into his hand, may infect you."

POSSIBLE EXPLANATION.

"It is said," remarked the moralizer, "that intellectual women seldom make good mothers. I wonder why?"

"That's easy," answered the demoralizer. "They don't often get a chance."

BADLY MANGLED BY HUSKIES

Eleven-Year-Old Boy Has Narrow Escape From Death When Attacked by Savage Brutes.

Jack Craig, eleven years old, son of Fred Craig of Fox, Alaska, was saved in the nick of time from being bitten to death in a thrilling battle with trail dogs recently.

Three large dogs, half wolf and half Malamute, attacked Jack within a quarter of a mile of the village. He fought off the big brutes while he called for help.

"John the Finn," a local trapper, heard his calls and saw the battle from a distance of about 3,000 feet. He ran from his rabbit traps across the snow. When he lifted the boy, who had thrown himself face downward to escape the dogs, the big animals jumped on the man, and for a time the trapper had to fight. This second battle ended only by the timely arrival of a crowd of men who ran out from Fox, bringing with them a gun.

The boy's clothes were torn to shreds, and on his scalp alone 21 marks were counted by the physician who was summoned from Fairbanks.

The dogs are handsome specimens. They belong in Fairbanks and are usually kept shut up, but it is thought that when let out they wandered out along the trails in search of rabbits. From them they must have gotten their lust for blood.

Electricity on the Farm.

The use of electricity on the American farm is growing. The time will come, say electrical experts, when the farmer will consider it a necessity. The introduction of tungsten lamps is doing much to advance the use of this power on the farm. It is possible for the farmer with a small plant, driven either by a gasoline engine or by damming a small stream, to obtain sufficient current to light his house and barn with this economical type of incandescent lamp. Central generating stations for farming districts to take the place of the small individual plants now being installed—that is what electricians see in the future.

Typhoid's Aftermath.

(New York Times.)

The number of deaths from typhoid fever during the acute stage of the disease is generally known, as well as the number of persons incapacitated as a result of typhoid and the financial loss to the community. But the after effects on the survivors have not been considered by the public. A study of 1,574 cases of typhoid fever in 1911 in the visiting nurse service of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company shows that 146 of the patients died while under treatment—a death rate of 9.28 per hundred.

The principal complications in the fatal cases were intestinal perforation and hemorrhage, meningitis, pneumonia and heart involvement. Of the 1,428 who recovered from the immediate results of the disease, the death during the first three years was fifty-four, or nearly twice the normal death rate of twenty-six for a similar group of persons who had not had typhoid. This increased was not uniform for all three years, being greatest during the first year following recovery, less during the second year, and still less the third.

As a cause of death among the fifty-four patients who died within the three years following recovery, tuberculosis headed the list (39 per cent.), with diseases of the heart following (14.9 per cent.). In the United States each year 8,000 deaths occur among persons who have recovered from an attack of typhoid fever, but who, as a result of impaired vitality from the disease, succumb during the second year after recovery.

"Similar studies should be made of the after effects of other disease," says the Journal of the American Medical Association. "We know, for example, in a somewhat general way, that measles and whooping cough, as well as other diseases, are not frequently followed by tuberculosis; but we have not had an accurate comparison of the actual to the expected mortality, and it is of importance that we should have such comparison."

PRINTS KISSES OF THE COEDS

Osculatory Impressions Recorded by University of Minnesota Publication.

St. Paul, May 19.—There are kisses and kisses, as every one knows; but it remained for the inventive editors of Caprice and Minnehaha, the newly merged humorous publications at the University of Minnesota, to record and classify the osculatory characteristics of ten of the institution's students—girl students it's unnecessary to explain.

The magazine's special "lip reader" induced them to press their lips, coated with some special preparation, against a sheet of cardboard, and the photographs gave cause for gasps, laughs and sighs when the result was published.

The issue created a sensation on the campus as soon as the presence of the feature became known. Many of the girls had given the impressions, not knowing for what purpose they were to be used. The rush for the new priddical caused an increase of nearly 300 per cent in circulation.

Honors for bestowing the perfect kiss went to Miss Jean Brawley, St. Paul. "For wonderful coloring, perfect symmetry and pleasing lines no other impression equals it," says the magazine. Of the kiss by Miss Louise Leonard, St. Paul, he said: "A perfect example of the dutiful kiss. The irregular outline betrays a lack of definite purpose and aim, showing rather, a tendency toward haste." Miss Audrey Borden, St. Paul, is declared to have given "a kiss inexperienced, conveys no vital impression, but the lack of self-confidence." "The blase kiss, cold, meaningless, and uninspired," is attributed to Miss Lucy Tow, St. Paul. "The best example of that osculation, known as the soul kiss," is attributed to Miss Lillian Nippert, St. Paul. Miss Julie Plant's kiss is called stingy.

City of Paducah and Telephone Company Compromise Suit.

Paducah, Ky., May 18.—Litigation that has extended over a period of 10 years was ended to-day when Mayor T. N. Hazelip for the City of Paducah, and General Manager F. L. Woodruff of the East Tennessee Telephone and Telegraph Company signed an agreement settling the issues involved. The suit of the City of Paducah sought to compel the telephone company to buy a franchise, and had been taken to the United States Supreme Court, which tribunal sent it back on an error. Since then the telephone company intimated it would like to compromise the differences, and City Solicitor, Jas. Campbell, Jr., had not taken any further action. In the agreement reached today the telephone company agreed to buy a franchise for $500, pay all the cost of court and is not to raise its rates for a period of one year. In the past few years the city has not permitted any of the company's phones in any of the city departments, including the fire and police departments, which action had been a handicap to the company. The settlement is considered a sweeping victory for the city.

ON THE LAST DAY

Fire Breaks Out In Saloon District of Winchester—Loss $30,000.

Winchester, Ky., May 19.—A fierce fire almost wiped out the saloon district of Winchester at an early hour this morning, entailing a loss of about $30,000, partially covered by insurance. The origin, is unknown.

The St. George Hotel was badly damaged by smoke and water, and other buildings suffered from this cause. T. L. Nunan, J. W. Porter and Gambill & Gambill were the owners of the destroyed saloons and their loss will be about $20,000.

The St. George Hotel was saved through heroic work and for a time it seemed doomed. All saloons were to have quit business at midnight tonight. This is the worst fire Winchester has experienced in several years.

NOTICE.

Regarding Harvest Hands In State of Oklahoma.

The Division of Information of the Bureau of Immigration, U. S. Department of Labor, has been advised by the Commissioner of Labor, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, that:

16,000 to 18,000 men will be needed this season for grain harvest; wages will range from $2.00 to $3.00 per day and board. The Department is informed that the vast majority of the farmers of Oklahoma who want harvest hands, prefer English speaking white men.

It will be necessary for all persons desiring this harvest work to defray their own expenses to and from the place of employment.

Harvest will begin in the Southwestern part of Oklahoma about June 5, in the North Central counties about June 8, and in the extreme western part about June 12.

Mr. C. L. Green, General Inspector in Charge of Employment and Distribution Work, representing the U. S. Department of Labor, will be stationed during the harvest season at Room 212, Post Office Building, Kansas City, Mo. Employers and persons seeking employment may obtain detailed information concerning the harvest work by communicating directly with him.

The services of Mr. Green and those in charge of the offices, above referred to are free.

Trawlers' Crew Saved.

Wick, England, May 21.—The crew of the trawler Crimond, sunk by a German submarine yesterday, was landed here. The chief engineer of the Crimond said a German officer compelled him to cut the pipes on the trawler to facilitate floating the vessel. The engineer also said that before the trawler was captured he had seen the same submarine blow up a steamer, whose name he could not ascertain.

GERMS IN HANDKERCHIEFS

When the health apostles placed a ban on lovers' kisses we thought the limit had been reached. When they decreed that a mother should not kiss her baby, but might give vent to her affections by tickling it in the ribs with a sterilized finger, we knew they had exceeded the limit. But these strictures seem trivial in comparison with the latest edict, which is that people must not wave handkerchiefs in a crowd.

A certain Dr. Brown, of Paterson, N. J., who assumes to know a good deal about the habits and customs of germs, says the waving of handkerchiefs is a dangerous performance from a health standpoint, as such act releases millions of germs and gives them the freedom of the "circumambient air." So long as each individual constitutes himself the custodian of his own germs there is little menace to the public health, but when handkerchiefs are set fluttering indiscriminately the germs set free thereby begin a campaign of death, which, in the mind of good Dr. Brown, is simply appalling.

Fortunately, handkerchief waving is almost passed. Of course, when the excursion steamer leaves the dock with the annual Sunday-school picnic aboard it is hard to restrain a flutter or two, but some allowance should be made for the nice, clean, freshly ironed handkerchiefs which the little boys and girls have tucked in their belts. Surely no germ, however malicious, would seek refuge there on such an occasion. People don't wave handkerchiefs at the ball games any more—not even the women. The men's handkerchiefs are too soggy with perspiration to flutter even if they cared to wave them, and the women prefer to vent their enthusiasm in giggles and denatured shrieks instead of unnecessarily shaking the frangipanni out of their cambric kerchiefs.

The Chautauqua is most likely to be affected by the anti-handkerchief waving crusade if Dr. Brown's theory gains a foothold. All Chautauquans wave their handkerchiefs. It's the badge of a true member of the cult. There is an art in the salute, too, like the postage stamp flirtation. It is here that Dr. Brown must concentrate his energies if he wishes to inaugurate a genuine reform. If he can enlist the services of Secretary Bryan this summer he may consider himself well on the highroad to fame.—Louisville Times.

Creamed Sardines.

Remove skin and bones from two boxes of sardines, then add four finely chopped hard-boiled eggs, five tablespoonfuls of bread crumbs, two tablespoonfuls of melted butter, one and one-fourth cupfuls of milk, one-half spoonful of salt, big dash of red pepper. Heat this mixture to a boiling point, then pour it over four slices of buttered toast.

Fried Cabbage.

Shave very thin enough cabbage to fill a quart measure. Put in granite stewpan, sprinkle with salt and pour on two cupfuls boiling water. Cook rapidly until water has evaporated. Then add two tablespoonfuls milk, one of butter, a dash of pepper and fry brown.

Raw Carrots.

Take nice, fresh, crisp carrots, scrape and put through a food chopper, using the coarse knife. To each pint of carrots add two tablespoonfuls melted butter, one teaspoonful sugar and salt to taste. Serve on lettuce leaves.

PRESIDENT ON LOCAL OPTION

A. O. Stanley Takes His Stand With Woodrow Wilson on Liquor Question.

Paintsville, Ky., May 19.—Former Congressman A. O. Stanley, in speaking here this afternoon in the interest of his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for Governor, made reference to the recent letter of President Woodrow Wilson addressed to Gen. W. B. Haldeman, of Louisville, defining his position on the liquor question and reiterating his views in favor of local option as opposed to State-wide prohibition. Mr. Stanley said:

"To succeed in Kentucky the Democratic party must remain harmonious and united. To succeed nationally, the party must preserve an unbroken front. We are fortunate at this fateful hour that a great, patient and courageous man is at the helm. Democrats and Republicans alike forgetting for the time being their differences, turn to Woodrow Wilson as their hope and their shelter in time of storm. Thinking of the safety of their homes and of the lives of their sons, all are ready to uphold the hands of the President.

"He is especially anxious at this time that the Democratic party should not be divided by any foreign issues, that no question which is not political in itself, should be injected into Democratic councils. He is entitled to the support of every Democrat in the solution of the world-wide problems that confront him and confront the Democratic party. For that reason he has again reasserted his earnest hope that the Democrats of Kentucky will not allow themselves to be divided into hostile camps over the liquor question.

"We settled that question in 1911 as Woodrow Wilson wanted it settled. On May 14, 1915, in a letter to Gen. W. B. Haldeman he again expresses his earnest wish that the Democratic party would adhere to the position taken in 1911, and asserted with emphasis that it was not only his position then, but that it is his position now.

"Is there a Democrat in Kentucky who has the effrontery to claim that he is a better friend of temperance than this great and godly man?

"Is there a Democrat in Kentucky who will leave his party and desert his President for the leadership of Caleb Powers or Edward J. O'Rear?

"I am willing to trust the President of the United States as my counsellor and guide not only in matters political, but in matters moral and social, and I pity the taste of a man who believes that O'Rear or Powers or any other republican is capable of leading the people of Kentucky to a higher spiritual level than our own President, or that any cause, however good, can be advanced by the destruction of the Democratic party or the betrayal of a Democratic President."

To Curtail Fire Losses.

Some day we shall come to full realization of the enormous unnecessary loss entailed by fire and shall begin the right sort of preventive campaign to lower it. One place to begin is in the schools. It is probably within the truth to say that a considerable part of the cost could be canceled by the saving that could be made by bringing up the oncoming generations with proper appreciation of the wealth wasted by fire that even reasonable precaution would prevent.
